National recognition for outstanding teachers of French in Australia

This year, to promote the profession of «professeur de français» and to celebrate the international «Journée du prof de français» on 26 November 2020, FATFA would like to officially recognise outstanding teachers of French at a national level, in conjunction with the Ambassade de France, SBS French radio, state Teachers of French Associations: AFTV, MLATQ, NATF, SAFTA, TOFAWA and the ASFS.

Do you know amazing teachers who show great enthusiasm and passion for their profession? Teachers who motivate, inspire their students with innovative teaching practices, and support and empower their colleagues?

You can nominate a teacher in one of these 2 categories:

Prix du jeune espoir - Young Hope Award

Criteria

- 5 years or less of teaching French
- Member of their local French teacher association
- Currently teaching French at an Institution included in the Australian education system
- Demonstrate enthusiasm, passion for teaching French
- Promote excellent teaching practices, through a variety of innovative teaching practices
- Enhance students' learning experience with the ability to cater for diverse groups and individuals' needs

Prix du prof de français de l'année (expert): Award for the Australian French Teacher of the year

Criteria

- More than 5 years of teaching
- + all of the above
- + inspire and support other teachers of French through mentorships, sharing their experiences and teaching practices
- + demonstrate significant contribution to the profession (for example, through involvement with professional association, local community, staff development, diverse networks/organisations, etc.)

Applications must address the above criteria, not exceed 500 words, include the attached cover page and may include digital material. If you are self-nominating, a reference must be included.

Applications need to be sent by 30 September 2020 to: sabine.kuuse@uwa.edu.au and Diane de Saint Leger ddsl@unimelb.edu.au

Nominees should be made aware of their nomination. Laureates will be interviewed by SBS French Radio and broadcasted during the week of 26 November 2020.

The award has been created in a collegial spirit to celebrate the passion and commitment of our profession and increase public awareness. It remains at the discretion of the Selection Committee Panel as to which nominee is meritorious of the awards. A maximum of 1 award in each category will be made each year.
